Herbal Garden during the year 2022-23

Every year, from 2nd year MBBS students, total 100 students are posted for Animal Houses and Herbal Garden services. Out of the 100 students, 50 students are posted for Animal House services and 50 students are posted for Herbal Gardens. These students go to Santhiram college of Pharmacy for 1 month every year to attend these postings.

These MBBS students engage in various activities in Animal houses, laboratories, herbal gardens, each offering unique benefits to their medical education.

1. ANIMAL HOUSE ACTIVITIES:

Observation and Handling: MBBS students often engage in observing animal behavior and learning how to handle different species safely.

Experimental Procedures: They participate in experiments involving animals to understand physiological processes and test medical hypotheses.

Ethical Considerations: Students learn about ethical guidelines and regulations governing animal research, promoting responsible experimentation.

2. LABORATORY WORK:

Anatomy and Physiology: Students conduct dissections to understand the structure and function of organs and systems in the human body.

Diagnostic Techniques: They learn to use laboratory equipment for various tests like blood analysis, urine analysis, and microbiological cultures.

Research Projects: Students often work on research projects, contributing to medical knowledge and honing their analytical skills.

3. HERBAL GARDEN ACTIVITIES:

Study of Medicinal Plants: MBBS students explore the properties and uses of medicinal plants grown in the herbal garden.

Preparation of Herbal Remedies: They understand to prepare herbal formulations and know their therapeutic effects.

Alternative Medicine: Students gain insight into complementary and alternative medicine practices, broadening their understanding of healthcare options.

BENEFITS:

Hands-on Experience: Engaging in these activities provides practical experience crucial for understanding medical concepts.

Enhanced Learning: Working with animals, in laboratories, and herbal gardens reinforces theoretical knowledge and promotes critical thinking.

Interdisciplinary Approach: Exposure to diverse activities fosters a holistic approach to healthcare, incorporating traditional and modern perspectives.

Research Skills: Participating in research projects cultivates research skills valuable for future academic pursuits or clinical practice.

Ethical Awareness: Learning about ethical considerations in animal research and herbal medicine fosters professionalism and empathy in patient care.

DURING THE
ACADEMIC YEAR 2021-22

Report on learning resources such as Laboratories, Animal house and Herbal Garden during the year 2021-22

Every year, second-year MBBS students eagerly anticipate their postings at the Santhiram College of Pharmacy, where they delve into the enriching realms of Animal Houses and Herbal Gardens. These postings, spanning a month, provide invaluable experiences and insights vital for their medical education.

With 100 students in total, evenly split between Animal House and Herbal Garden services, each cohort embarks on a journey filled with diverse activities tailored to enhance their medical understanding.

In the Animal Houses, students immerse themselves in the art of observation and handling, meticulously studying various species' behaviors and mastering safe handling techniques. Engaging in experimental procedures, they unravel the intricacies of physiological processes through hands-on experimentation, all while upholding ethical guidelines, fostering a culture of responsible research.

The laboratory becomes their sanctuary for anatomical explorations and diagnostic techniques. Armed with scalpels and microscopes, students dissect organs, deciphering their structures' intricacies, and employ advanced diagnostic tools for blood and urine analyses, cultivating proficiency in essential medical procedures. Furthermore, research projects ignite their curiosity, propelling them into the realm of scientific inquiry. Collaborating with peers and mentors, they contribute to medical knowledge, honing analytical skills crucial for their future endeavors.

Across the Herbal Gardens, a different adventure awaits. Here, students immerse themselves in the study of medicinal plants, uncovering the secrets of nature's pharmacopeia. From the cultivation of herbs to the preparation of potent remedies, they gain a profound understanding of alternative medicine, broadening their healthcare horizons.

Through these experiences, students reap a multitude of benefits. Hands-on engagement fosters a deeper comprehension of medical concepts, while the integration of diverse activities nurtures a holistic approach to healthcare, bridging the gap between traditional wisdom and modern practices. Moreover, research endeavors instill valuable skills, empowering students to navigate the complexities of academia and clinical practice with confidence.

4.2.3

DETAIL REPORT OF ACTIVITIES
AND LIST OF STUDENTS
BENEFITED DUE TO EXPOSURE
TO LEARNING RESOURCES
DURING THE

Report on learning resources such as Laboratories, Animal house and Herbal Garden during the year 2020-21

In essence, the postings at the Santhiram College of Pharmacy serve as a cornerstone of the MBBS curriculum, equipping students with the knowledge, skills, and values essential for their journey towards becoming exemplary healthcare providers.

Each year, second-year MBBS students eagerly anticipate their postings at the Santhiram College of Pharmacy, where they embark on transformative journeys within the captivating realms of Animal Houses and Herbal Gardens. Spanning a month, these postings are not merely educational requirements but rather invaluable opportunities that enrich their medical education in profound ways. With 100 students in total, evenly divided between Animal House and Herbal Garden services, each cohort experiences a tailored curriculum designed to deepen their understanding of medical principles while fostering practical skills and ethical awareness.

In the Animal Houses, students immerse themselves in the delicate art of observation and handling. They meticulously study the behaviors of diverse animal species, honing their abilities to handle them safely and responsibly. Engaging in experimental procedures, they unravel the mysteries of physiological processes firsthand, conducting experiments that contribute to both their knowledge and the advancement of medical science. Crucially, they do so while upholding stringent ethical guidelines, cultivating a culture of integrity and responsibility in research practices.

Within the laboratory environment, students find themselves on the front lines of anatomical exploration and diagnostic mastery. Armed with scalpels and microscopes, they delve deep into the intricacies of human anatomy, dissecting organs to grasp their structures and functions with precision. They also familiarize themselves with advanced diagnostic techniques, such as blood and urine analyses, equipping them with the skills necessary for accurate diagnosis and treatment planning. Moreover, research projects ignite their intellectual curiosity, propelling them into the realm of scientific inquiry. Collaborating with peers and mentors, they design and execute experiments, contributing to the ever-expanding body of medical knowledge. Through these projects, students not only hone their analytical skills but also develop a deep appreciation for the iterative nature of scientific discovery.

Across the Herbal Gardens, a different but equally enlightening adventure awaits. Here, students immerse themselves in the study of medicinal plants, unlocking nature's pharmacopeia and exploring the therapeutic potential of herbal remedies. From cultivation to formulation, they gain hands-on experience in preparing herbal treatments, expanding their understanding of alternative medicine and its role in holistic healthcare.

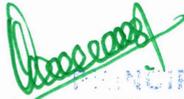

These experiences offer students a plethora of benefits. Beyond academic learning, they foster a deeper appreciation for the interconnectedness of medical disciplines and the importance of a holistic

Report on learning resources such as Laboratories, Animal house and Herbal Garden

during the year 2019-20

In essence, the postings at the Santhiram College of Pharmacy serve as a cornerstone of the MBBS curriculum, equipping students with the knowledge, skills, and values essential for their journey towards becoming exemplary healthcare providers.

Each year, second-year MBBS students eagerly anticipate their postings at the Santhiram College of Pharmacy, where they embark on transformative journeys within the captivating realms of Animal Houses and Herbal Gardens. Spanning a month, these postings are not merely educational requirements but rather invaluable opportunities that enrich their medical education in profound ways.

With 100 students in total, evenly divided between Animal House and Herbal Garden services, each cohort experiences a tailored curriculum designed to deepen their understanding of medical principles while fostering practical skills and ethical awareness.

In the Animal House, students immerse themselves in the delicate art of observation and handling. They meticulously study the behaviors of diverse animal species, honing their abilities to handle them safely and responsibly. Engaging in experimental procedures, they unravel the mysteries of physiological processes firsthand, conducting experiments that contribute to both their knowledge and the advancement of medical science. Crucially, they do so while upholding stringent ethical guidelines, cultivating a culture of integrity and responsibility in research practices.

Within the laboratory environment, students find themselves on the front lines of anatomical exploration and diagnostic mastery. Armed with scalpels and microscopes, they delve deep into the intricacies of human anatomy, dissecting organs to grasp their structures and functions with precision. They also familiarize themselves with advanced diagnostic techniques, such as blood and urine analyses, equipping them with the skills necessary for accurate diagnosis and treatment planning.

Moreover, research projects ignite their intellectual curiosity, propelling them into the realm of scientific inquiry. Collaborating with peers and mentors, they design and execute experiments, contributing to the ever-expanding body of medical knowledge. Through these projects, students not only hone their analytical skills but also develop a deep appreciation for the iterative nature of scientific discovery.

Across the Herbal Gardens, a different but equally enlightening adventure awaits. Here, students immerse themselves in the study of medicinal plants, unlocking nature's pharmacopeia and exploring the therapeutic potential of herbal remedies. From cultivation to formulation, they gain hands-on experience in preparing herbal treatments, expanding their understanding of alternative medicine and its role in holistic healthcare.

These experiences offer students a plethora of benefits. Beyond academic learning, they foster a deeper appreciation for the interconnectedness of medical disciplines and the importance of a holistic approach to patient care. By bridging the gap between traditional wisdom and modern practices, students emerge not only as competent medical professionals but also as compassionate caregivers, dedicated to upholding the highest standards of professionalism and ethical conduct.

4.2.3

DETAIL REPORT OF ACTIVITIES
AND LIST OF STUDENTS
BENEFITED DUE TO EXPOSURE
TO LEARNING RESOURCES
DURING THE
ACADEMIC YEAR 2018-19

Report on learning resources such as Laboratories, Animal house and Herbal Garden

during the year 2018-19

The annual postings at the Santhiram College of Pharmacy mark a pivotal moment in the journey of second-year MBBS students. These experiences, set amidst the captivating environments of Animal Houses and Herbal Gardens, are not just educational endeavors but transformative odysseys that shape future healthcare providers.

Lasting a month, these postings transcend mere academic requirements, offering invaluable opportunities for students to deepen their understanding of medical principles while honing practical skills and nurturing ethical awareness.

With a cohort of 100 students evenly divided between Animal House and Herbal Garden services, each group undergoes a meticulously crafted curriculum tailored to maximize their learning potential.

In the Animal Houses, students delve into the intricacies of animal behavior and physiology. They meticulously study diverse species, mastering the art of observation and handling. Engaging in experimental procedures, they unravel physiological mysteries firsthand, conducting experiments that expand both their knowledge and contribute to the advancement of medical science. Crucially, ethical considerations are paramount, instilling in students a culture of integrity and responsibility in research practices.

Within the laboratory setting, students find themselves at the forefront of anatomical exploration and diagnostic mastery. Equipped with scalpels and microscopes, they dissect organs to understand their structures and functions with precision. Advanced diagnostic techniques further equip them with the skills necessary for accurate diagnosis and treatment planning.

Moreover, research projects ignite their intellectual curiosity, driving them into the realm of scientific inquiry. Collaborating with peers and mentors, they design and execute experiments, contributing to the expanding body of medical knowledge. Through these projects, students not only sharpen their analytical skills but also develop a deep appreciation for the iterative nature of scientific discovery.

Across the Herbal Gardens, students immerse themselves in the study of medicinal plants, unlocking nature's pharmacopeia and exploring the therapeutic potential of herbal remedies. From cultivation to formulation, they gain hands-on experience in preparing herbal treatments, expanding their understanding of alternative medicine and its role in holistic healthcare.

These experiences offer students a myriad of benefits. Beyond academic learning, they foster a deeper appreciation for the interconnectedness of medical disciplines and the importance of a holistic approach to patient care. By bridging traditional wisdom with modern practices, students emerge not only as competent medical professionals but also as compassionate caregivers, dedicated to upholding the highest standards of professionalism and ethical conduct.

Fundamentally, the postings at the Santhiram College of Pharmacy serve as a cornerstone of the MBBS curriculum, providing students with the knowledge, skills, and values necessary for their journey towards becoming exemplary healthcare providers. Through immersive experiences in Animal Houses and Herbal Gardens, students are not only equipped with the tools of the trade but also instilled with a profound sense of purpose and responsibility in their pursuit of healing and service to humanity.
